THIRTEENTH YEAR

COLUMBIA, MISSOURI, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1920

FOUR-THIRTY O'CLOCK EDITION

NUMBER 72

REILLY, HEAD LINESMAN, TO FLY FROM K. C.

Official at Missouri-Kansas Game to Arrive in Airplane Tomorrow Afternoon.

"WE'RE READY"—MILLER

Kansas Squad Resting in Moberly Today—Both Teams Have Final Practice.

The big game will start promptly at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. There will be four entrances to Rollins Field. All persons holding tickets for seats in the south bleachers or in the boxes on the south bleachers will enter the field through the entrance on Maryland place, adjacent to the baseball bleachers. Those who have tickets for seats in the west bleachers or the north and south field boxes will enter through the west gate on Rollins street. Only those who have seats in the north bleachers will enter through the east gate on Rollins street. Those holding general admission tickets will enter through the entrance at Rollins Gymnasium.

Since the game will start at the time scheduled Z. G. Cleveland, director of athletics, urges everybody to start to the game not later than 1 o'clock. The size of the crowd will mean that the entrance to the field will be necessarily slow.

The weather tomorrow will be ideal for a football game. George Reeder, director of the local weather bureau, announced this morning that there was every indication that tomorrow would be perfect, for he thought the players and spectators. It will be clear and snappy, but the sunshine, Mr. Reeder says, the Missouri will temper the cold so that it will not be uncomfortable.

Dr. Joseph Albert Reilly, of the K. C. A. C. will be the official head linesman of the Tiger-Jayhawk clash tomorrow, unless a palpitating carburetor or rheumatic drive-shaft or something like that shatters the morals of the airplane in which he intends to come to Columbia. Dr. Reilly will inaugurate a new mode of transportation for football officials if he is successful in carrying out his novel plan.

The head linesman proposes to leave Kansas City about noon tomorrow with Dr. John Outland. Doctor Outland will drive his own plane. Their schedule has been arranged so that barring mishaps they will reach the golf links, near the football field, a few minutes before the start of the game. Dr. Reilly will be dressed in his linesman's togs for the trip and will be ready for business a few minutes after his arrival.

The Kansas squad and coaches, thirty-one men in all, are in Moberly today. The Jayhawk party reached that place at noon yesterday and will remain there until 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. This is in order to avoid the excitement of Columbia, filled as it will be tonight with noisy Homecomers. The party is stopping at the Merchants' Hotel.

KANSAS SQUAD IN EIGHT WORKOUT. The Kansas squad went through a light workout and signal practice in a field near Moberly yesterday afternoon. It was their last practice prior to the final test of the season, as far as inquiries among the coaches revealed. Today is being spent with as much rest and quiet for the players as possible.

F. C. ("Phog") Allen, Kansas athletic director, is making no predictions regarding the final outcome of tomorrow's contest, according to reports from Moberly. The coaches, Lindsay and Lashell, likewise are silent, the reports stated.

Leaving Moberly at 10:30 tomorrow morning, their coach attached to a special train carrying football enthusiasts coming to see the game, the Kansas are due to arrive here shortly after noon. They will go directly to Rollins Gymnasium.

"We're ready," said the coach, and a Comanche yell from the squad as they struck out for the gymnasium furnished a convincing echo for the head mentor's statement.

Yesterday saw one of the most enthusiastic workouts the Tigers have ever had. Throughout a long signal practice, every snap of the ball was the occasion for a rousing growl and shout that rolled back and forth across the field as the bleachers answered with many echoes.

That was the final Tiger practice, and the Missouri players are resting today. Columbia today is in a mood of anticipation. An atmosphere of excitement prevails as the last arrangements are made for what everyone declares will be the biggest Homecoming Day the city has ever known. The advance guard of the big crowd which will be here tomorrow has already arrived. Fifty-two guests registered at the Daniel Boone Tavern yesterday and thirty-seven at the Athens

THE HOMECOMING EDITION

The Homecoming edition yesterday of The Columbia Evening Missourian, 20 pages of 8 columns each, carried 2,053 inches of display advertising; advertising is generally accepted up to 12 o'clock noon but on account of lack of space no advertising could be accepted for this special edition after 9 a. m. Some of the largest advertising merchants in Columbia failed to get space in this issue because their copy came in after all space was sold.

The Homecoming edition, like all regular issues, was delivered in Centralia, Hallsville, McBaine, Rocheport and Huntsdale by Missouri carriers about the same time as it was delivered in Columbia.

Tuesday's Missourian carried more than 2,000 inches of display while the Tuesday's Kansas City Star carried about 1,500 inches. The Star had 20 pages of 7 columns each as compared with the Missourian's 20 pages of 8 columns each; the Missourian also had several columns more of reading matter than the Star as the Star carried 3 pages of classified ads.

Five hundred extra copies of the Homecoming edition of the Missourian were distributed today at the hotels and at chapter houses.

Son for Coach and Mrs. Miller

"I shall act in capacity of private coach," said John F. ("Johnny") Miller, present coach of the Tiger football team today. The reason he gave was that a son was born at his home, 611 Turner avenue, at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

This is the second child for Mr. and Mrs. Miller. John Fletcher, Jr., 2-years-old, has already won recognition in athletics. He was presented with a football by the Ames team when they were defeated by the Tigers this season.

Hotel. The majority of the visitors, however, will arrive late this afternoon and early tomorrow morning.

STORES ARE REDECORATED

Columbia merchants have "dolled up" Broadway for the game tomorrow and everywhere the gold and black of the Tigers and the red and blue of the Jayhawkers are in prominence. Store windows, as well as the exterior of the store buildings, have been decorated in honor of the two teams.

Stuffed tigers and colored prints of the ferocious jungle beast are at a premium this week. Everything that resembles a tiger has been pressed into service in the many and varied decorative schemes used by the merchants.

A new stunt has been inaugurated. A Tiger now swings menacingly between the center columns, placed there by the students in the School of Engineering.

SIREN TO PLAY OLD MISSOURI Engineer at Heating Plant Practicing for Tiger Victory.

Few students recognized that the steam siren which blew so long yesterday was practicing Old Missouri.

"It has been a custom as long as I can remember," said the chief engineer at the heating plant, "to play the song on the siren after Missouri beats Kansas."

Missouri doesn't win, we keep pretty silent around here."

Students who were in the S. A. T. T. were reminded of Armistice day in 1918 when the time was played to announce the greatest victory.

NO TRACE OF MISSING MAN

8 Searching Parties Today Fail to Find Any Clue of Roy Murry.

By Staff Correspondent. STENOGRAPH, Mo., Nov. 24.—Searching parties following vague clues in hopes of locating Roy Murry, Columbia mechanic who disappeared Monday afternoon, arrived here at noon today. No trace of the missing man has been discovered.

Word has been sent to all towns between Columbia, Kansas City and St. Louis where it would be possible for an automobile to cross the Missouri River on any of the main highways. None of these places have reported seeing Murry.

Eight searching parties were sent out from Columbia today and all of them have failed to find any clue. All the country within a 25-mile radius of Columbia has been searched thoroughly.

Centralia Business Men to Dine. The Commercial Club of Centralia will give a banquet tonight in the dining room of the Christian Church.

CAMPAIGN FOR M. U. MEMORIAL FUND BEGINS

Plan Is to Raise $500,000 Among Alumni and Students for Tower and Building.

L. M. DEFOE CHAIRMAN

Will Be Monument to 52 Sons of University Who Fell—President Hill to Outline Plans.

The campaign to raise one-half a million dollars, to erect the University of Missouri Memorial Tower and Building is on.

The committee in charge has completed the work of financing the preliminary campaign. For this work $3,000 was raised. The alumni of St. Louis subscribed $1500, the alumni of Kansas City $1000 and the alumni of Columbia $500. This committee is composed of Prof. L. M. Defoe, chairman of the executive committee; S. F. Conley, treasurer, and Odon Guitler, Jr., campaign director.

From now on there will be conducted an intensive campaign among the alumni, former students and friends of the University in Missouri and other states for

The site is determined and the ground is waiting. The plans are ready. The money is to be provided at once by the alumni and friends of the University. There is need of: $100,000 for the tower; $200,000 for the south wing; $200,000 for the north wing.

That the alumni and friends of the University will speedily respond to the movement to commemorate those who gave up their lives, is not doubted for the dead, but forever serving the needs of our living students and alumni.

"The center of the building is to be a great Memorial Tower forming the principal entrance to the East Campus and crowning the Midway (Lowry street widened) connecting the New Campus and the Old Quadrangle.

Flanking the tower there will be a building on either side, north and south, accommodating the worthy activities of the men and of the women of the University—such as the alumni association, literary societies, debating, University Commons—a club for every present and former student of the University.

Holman's father, when his son failed to come home, telephoned to Columbia, and on the following Saturday, November 6, came here. He filed an excuse for his son with Dean J. C. Jones, of the College of Arts and Science for the rest of the term, hoping, according to Mr. Dunlap, that he might find him and persuade the boy to return to school the winter term. A few days later he returned to Huntsdale, taking his son's trunk with him. Mrs. E. M. Prather, 1315 Rosemary, at whose home Holman stayed, received a letter from the distressed father some two weeks later, asking her to send him any information she might receive concerning his son.

"He did not like to go to school and often talked of going to Kansas City," said Mr. Dunlap. "When I was in Kansas City last week I looked around for Joe, but saw nothing of him."

"He was a clever boy, not over 18 years old. He never worked though, and I don't believe he made passing grades." During the school year 1919-20, Holman was entered as a freshman in the School of Engineering here. His school work during that time was deficient and he was dismissed from the University for one semester, according to the ruling.

At the mass meeting tonight President A. Ross Hill will outline the plans for the memorial here and tell of the campaign that has now been started.

M. U. STUDENT STILL MISSING

Disappearance of Joseph Holman, Who Didn't Like School, is Unexplained.

What has become of Joseph Holman? Holman, a student in the University here, disappeared November 1, saying he was going to visit his father in Huntsdale. Since that time no trace has been found of him, and despite the efforts of his father, none of the clues to his whereabouts have ended in success. There are two clues: one given by a girl from Huntsdale, who thought she saw the missing boy on a train to St. Louis. The other is furnished by his roommate, John Dunlap, who said Holman had been talking about going to work all fall but had always spoken of Kansas City as the city in which he would like to try for his fortune.

Holman's father, when his son failed to come home, telephoned to Columbia, and on the following Saturday, November 6, came here. He filed an excuse for his son with Dean J. C. Jones, of the College of Arts and Science for the rest of the term, hoping, according to Mr. Dunlap, that he might find him and persuade the boy to return to school the winter term. TIGER CUBS ARE AHEAD

U. H. S.-C. H. S. Game Was 7 to 0 After First Half.

The University High School football team was leading Columbia High 7 to 0 at the end of the first half of their annual football game. The contest is being viciously fought out on the freshman gridiron, Rollins Field, before a crowd of 1300 spectators. The game marks the end of the season for both teams, and the game is the most important of the season. Intense rivalry always surrounds their Thanksgiving holiday contest.

The Tiger cubs achieved their touch-down in the last minute of the first quarter. There was no score in the second quarter.

GARDNER HERE FOR CEREMONY

Will Take Part in Laying Cornerstone of Home Economics Building.

Governor Gardner will come to Columbia to help lay the cornerstone of the Home Economics Building, the only building to be erected for the state from state funds during his administration. The ceremony will take place at the close of the Homecoming parade, the parade breaking up at the site of the building. During the afternoon the governor will attend the football game. He will leave a dinner with a forty-pound turkey, sent to him from Point Pleasant, Tex., to come to Columbia.

The Masonic lodge will have direction of the ceremonies. William F. Olson, grand master, of Booneville, will come tomorrow morning. Other masons who will take part are: Dr. John Pickard, deputy grand master; J. A. Oliver, grand senior warden; B. C. Hunt, grand junior warden; W. M. Haushalter, grand secretary.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE NEEDY Twelve Baskets Will Be Distributed Tomorrow by the Y. W. C. A.

Cranberries, a can of pumpkin, sugar, eggs, apples and oranges will fill the twelve baskets to be given needy families for Thanksgiving Day. These families include women who work in the factory and have large families, and several old women unable to do things for themselves. This work is done in connection with the committee on family visiting, a branch of the social service committee of the Y. W. C. A., and is so arranged that Thanksgiving offerings will not duplicate those of the Charity Organization Society.

Not all these families have been visited yet this year because they have not been found at home when the visits have been made.

WOMAN ON CITY SCHOOL BOARD?

Petitions Being Circulated to Have Mrs. J. G. Babb Named in Edwards' Place.

Is there a vacancy on the Columbia School board? Will that vacancy, in case there is one, be filled by a woman?

A few days ago Miss Edwards, a member of the board, sold his property in the city and went to Texas. It is said that he expects to be away only for the winter. Even in that event, it is held by some, that he is no longer a resident of the city and that there is a vacancy on the board.

Mrs. J. G. Babb is considered the logical candidate for election to the Columbia School Board at the spring election, by Columbia women, according to an informal statement made today by Mrs. W. E. Harsh.

Fifteen Columbia women are soliciting signatures to a petition asking the Columbia School Board to appoint Mrs. Babb to fill the place of Mr. Edwards. They insist that Edwards' place is vacant, inasmuch as he sold his property here before leaving the city for the winter.

According to Mrs. Harsh, who is one of those active in the move to put a woman on the board, more than a thousand names will be secured with little trouble.

"We are relying on the influence of public sentiment with the members of the school board. They will heed our petition when we present it to them in two or three weeks."

The board will hold a special meeting to consider accounts next Friday night. The next regular meeting is scheduled for next Monday night.
